

RUTHLESS MURDERERS RAMPANT IN MILL CITY

2 YOUTHFUL BANDITS KNOWN AS "MUTT AND JEFF" RUN AMUCK

Have Terrorized Minneapolis for Two Weeks; Shot Oliver Drewyer, Age 63, in Cold Blood in Sight of His Daughter, Mrs. Harry Cook

While Police Were Searching for the Pair, They Entered a Restaurant on Fourth Street, Ordered Owner to "Stick 'Em Up" and Fired at Him

By United Press

Minneapolis, Oct. 17.—After one of the most ruthless murders in the history of the Twin Cities, two youthful bandits attempted a second murder today while police of both cities searched for them.

Oliver Drewyer, 63, was shot and killed at 10 a. m. while his daughter, Mrs. Harry Cook, looked on. Although police asserted they knew the bandits, detectives were mystified by the only tangible clue—the word "kill" scratched hastily in the banister of a stair with a pen knife.

The bandits are known as "Mutt and Jeff," and have terrorized Minneapolis for two weeks.

Drewyer was killed when he entered his daughter's boudoir while she was being robbed. The bandits had entered the room quietly and demanded her jewels and money. Mr. Drewyer opened the door. The shortest of the bandits pushed a gun in his ribs and fired, killing him. The taller of the two seized a $1,000 fur coat and then fled.

While police were searching for the pair, a half breed Indian entered a restaurant on Fourth street and perceived a customer and walked out. When the customer left, "Mutt and Jeff" entered and demanded the proprietor, John Snidelski to "stick 'em up." At the same moment one of them fired, the bullet grazing Snidelski's head. Without obtaining any loot, the bandits ran out and jumped into a machine driven by the Indian.

ORGANIZED VETS AND ORGANIZED LABOR

THE TWO SHOULD WORK TOGETHER, SAID SAMUEL GOMPERS

(By United Press.)

New Orleans, La., Oct. 17.—Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, was to speak before the convention of the American Legion today in favor of cooperation between the two organizations. Organized labor and organized veterans should work together, Gompers holds.

He hopes to establish an understanding between the two groups.

Judge Kennesaw Mountain Landis, high commissioner of baseball, also was to address the convention.

Committees in the meantime are preparing resolutions which will guide the work of the Legion during the year. Resolutions will demand more efficient care for wounded and disabled, condemn interference by Brigadier General Sawyer in the hospitalization program, support immigration restriction, and probably urge a universal service law for war time, committee service said.

Legion politics are boiling and supporters of various candidates are organizing their forces.

There are so many aspirants already in the field that some believe a dark horse will win. William E. Degan, of New York, and A. A. Sprague, of Chicago, are being pushed. Legionnaires have filled the city to overflowing.

Safety of America Depends on Legion

New Orleans, Oct. 17.—Speaking before the American Legion today, Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, favored cooperation between labor and the American Legion.

"The safety of America in future years depends more on the Legion and organized workers than on any other bodies," he declared.

BRAINERD TO ENTERTAIN SUNDAY SCHOOL
DELEGATES ON HARVARD PLAN THIS WEEK

Important meetings of the committees in charge of arrangements for the Sunday school convention which is scheduled for Brainerd this week, are being held several times daily.

The most important of these seems to be the entertainment and assignment committee of which Mrs. Henry Olson is chairman. These good ladies are about at their wits end to know where to turn for additional quarters in which to house the many delegates that Brainerd has promised to entertain on the Harvard plan.

The committee fully expected that every home that had accommodations would volunteer their use for this worthy cause, but to date only beds and breakfasts have been offered to take care of about two hundred. What is to be done with the additional five or six hundred that are expected to attend this convention?

Mrs. Olson and her committee are making one final appeal to the citizens of Brainerd, and asks that they will make every effort to assist by opening their homes and extending their hospitality, thus advertising the city in the proper light besides proving themselves public spirited residents.

Those who have accommodations that they can offer for the entertainment of the delegates are to notify one of the following, depending upon which church you happen to be a member:

Methodist—Mrs. E. E. Blackledge.
First Congregational—Mrs. H. J. Wilson.

First Baptists—Mrs. Henry Graham or Mrs. Wm. Greenwood.
Peoples Congregational—Rev. Frederick Errington.

Bethlehem Lutheran—Mrs. O. S. Winther.

Presbyterian—Mrs. Orth.
Evangelical—Mrs. Zander.

Episcopal—Mrs. W. S. Orne.

Swedish Baptist—Mrs. George Thon.

Others not listed among the above congregations are asked to report to O. J. Bouma, of the Chamber of Commerce.

Every mail is bringing in a sheaf of advance registrations for the convention.

"Die-Hard" Roads Forced to Sign Up to Get Mechanics (From "Labor")

By CLINTON HOUSTON

Chicago, Oct. 10.—Settlement of the shopmen's strike under terms of the Baltimore agreement continues to progress.

It is announced at offices of the Railway Employees' Department that the 90 or more roads which have signed will require approximately 200,000 of the 400,000 men who suspendence are the Chicago & Great Western and Gulf Coast Lines. Both were "die-hards." Samuel M. Feiton, president of the Great Western, is chairman of the Western Association of Railway Executives and has hitherto opposed all suggestions of a settlement with the strikers. More than 4,000 men went back to their old jobs on this road.

The Chicago & Alton also signed up. Approximately 5,000 men returned to their old jobs on this road Monday morning.

Included in the Gulf Coast Lines are the New Orleans, Texas & Mexico; Beaumont, Sour Lake & Western; Orange & Northwestern; New Iberia & Northern; St. Louis, Brownsville & Mexico; and the Louisiana Southern. Other roads to sign up are the Georgia, Florida & Alabama; Fort Worth Belt; Louisiana & Arkansas; and the Houston Belt & Terminal.

"WETS" MAY MAKE SUBSTANTIAL GAINS, BUT CONGRESS WILL CONTINUE "DRY"

"WETS" HOWEVER CONSTANTLY WORKING TO GET MODIFICATION OF VOLSTEAD LAW

Washington, Oct. 17.—Beer and light wines will not be restored as the sequel of the congressional elections next month.

The "wets" may make substantial gains in the next congress, but that congress like the one now in office will be "dry."

These facts are apparent to all observers of the political trend of the year, wet and dry leaders agree. They are further buttressed by the opinions of experienced politicians allied with neither the wets nor the dries.

In spite of the fact that it is admittedly impossible for the wets to score a sweeping overturn of the Volstead law this year, they are keeping the issue strongly to the fore every place where there is the slightest chance to put it into the campaign.

This year's campaign is but the beginning of a fight which they constantly assert will end in the modification of the Volstead law to permit "moderate" alcoholic beverages.

Army's Best Blimp

Washington, Oct. 17.—The dirigible C-2 which was destroyed by fire at San Antonio, Texas, today, was the army's best and largest "blimp."

It was completed shortly after the army's big Italian-built airship, the Roma, was destroyed, with a loss of 34 lives, at Norfolk, early this year.

The C-2 had a gas capacity of 172,000 cubic feet, and was capable of making a speed of 60 miles an hour.

RECIPROCAL AGREEMENT PROPOSED BY HUGHES IMPOSSIBLE, DECLARE BRITISH

CANADA INSTRUCTED TO PREVENT ISSUANCE OF FRAUDULENT CLEARANCE PAPERS

Washington, October 17.—Great Britain, in a communication delivered to the state department, is understood to have declined to agree to the suggestion of Secretary C. E. Hughes for a reciprocal agreement for the extension of the right to search and seizure so as to give the American prohibition navy jurisdiction outside the three mile limit.

At the same time, the British foreign office assured the American government that every precaution would be taken to prevent violation of the American prohibition law by rum smugglers under the British flag. It was said that Canadian and other port officials had been instructed to prevent so far as possible the issuance of fraudulent clearance papers and other improper practices complained of in secretary Hughes prohibition note.

The British communication in reply to the one sent to London by the state department several weeks ago, was presented to secretary Hughes by the British Ambassador, Sir Auckland Geddes. Although department officials would not discuss the subject, there were indications that the refusal to accord a reciprocal right of search outside the usual limits of territorial waters would be considered as finally blocking any extension of such authority to prohibition officers.

Orders already are in effect directing the prohibition navy not to operate outside the three mile line except in the case of vessels in communication with the shore by means of their own small boats and it has been the apparent belief of administration officials that no extension would be in accordance with international practice unless it were made by some such specific agreement as that proposed by Mr. Hughes.

Details of the British rejoinder were not revealed, but it was indicated that the foreign office had replied in detail to the protest made by the United States against the alleged use of double clearance papers by some British vessels to circumvent the ban against liquor importation. The American complaint was referred by the London officials to the various colonial governments in whose jurisdiction fraudulent clearance was declared to have taken place, and the communication delivered today is said to relate at length the results of these local investigations.

The inclination of the British government to assent to an extension of jurisdiction through the establishment of reciprocal zones, in which the British and American shipping would be, respectively, subject to search by American and British authorities, is understood to have been based upon the contention that such a step would not only be out of harmony with established maritime practices, but would set a precedent which might infringe upon the doctrine of freedom of the seas.

The state department has indicated that the reciprocal zone proposal was advanced purely as a tentative suggestion and there have been evidences, too, that officials of the American government had little hope of its acceptance.

Paris, Oct. 17.—Harold McCormick finally has given his consent to Mathilde to marry Max Osser, members of the family said today. In deference to the father's wishes, the marriage will not take place until April, when Mathilde reaches her 18th birthday. Her mother and grandfather, John D. Rockefeller, still bitterly oppose the marriage.

CHARGED WITH THE MURDER OF TWINS,
BUILDS UP DEFENSE

DEMURE AND ATTRACTIVE 25 YEAR OLD MRS. HAZEL McNALLY IN JAIL

HUSBAND AGED 55 CONFIDENT HE CAN PROVE SHE KILLED THE BABIES

(By United Press.)
Hammond, Ind., Oct. 17.—Mrs. Hazel McNally, charged with the murder of her own twin babies, today built up a defense on the claim that it was impossible for her to become a mother. The demure and attractive 25 year old wife in jail here on the story told by her 55 year old husband, Frank McNally, that she had kept the birth of the children, last December, a secret until "they were disposed of," was confident that she would be able to prove her claim.

"I haven't done a thing wrong, and I am not worried," she said today. "This murder charge is a frameup—low, dirty trick by Frank."

The woman's married life with McNally, her second husband, has been far from peaceful.

McNally charged that she gave birth to the twins—children of her first husband—last December, a short time after she had entered into her second marriage.

"I never saw the children," McNally said, "although I was living in the house at the time. But I know they were there. She kept them until February when she bought a couple of dolls and told me what I had thought was the twins were really the dolls."

"I never saw them because I really never had any children," said Mrs. McNally.

Examination of the birth records showed that any children she may have had were not registered.

Joe Todd, prosecuting attorney, declared he had strong accusations against the girl.

"At the arraignment Wednesday I will show fully all of the evidence I have," said Todd.

Among the witnesses which Todd will summon, is Doctor Cyrus W. Campbell, who examined Mrs. McNally a short time before the children were born. The prosecutor will attempt to introduce evidence through surgeons to disprove the alibi of barrenness.

This is the second charge which Mrs. McNally has faced as the result of her husband's accusations. She was arrested in South Bend recently on a charge of beating her husband, but was released after five days, and re-arrested immediately for the alleged murder.

The girl has been made the pet of the Hammond police. She is comfortable in the tiny woman's cell of the town jail with magazines, a rocking chair, flowers, many blankets, and everything needed.

Through her vivacious winning smile and her straight-forward story, she has succeeded in convincing her jailors that she is innocent.

DETLOFF GETS LIFE;
SENTENCED TODAY

Austin, Minn., Oct. 17.—August Detloff, accused of the brutal murder of his wife's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Wagner, at Grand Meadow, was sentenced to life imprisonment today by District Judge Meighan.

Detloff was arraigned at 9 a. m. and at 9:10 was on his way back to jail, sentenced for life.

He identified a confession signed August 6th in which he told of entering the home of the aged couple at Grand Meadow, July 12th, and assaulting them both with an axe. Mr. Wagner was dead when found. His wife lived a week, but never regained consciousness. They were wealthy and Detloff had hoped, he said, that his wife, their daughter, would inherit part of their estate.

$50 CUT IN FORDS; ALL MODELS AFFECTED

(By United Press.)

Detroit, Mich., Oct. 17.—A fifty dollar cut in all Ford models was announced here today.

The reduction was expected to take effect immediately.

"Improved management and increased perfection in manufacture and sending have made this reduction possible," it was announced at the Ford Dearborn plant.

As from all sides, it would seem as though the attendance is to be very representative as well as a good-sized delegation. Hubbard county is expecting to have twenty-five delegates. Le Sueur county plans to have at least fifteen. Hennepin and Ramsey counties both have expectations of sending large numbers. From word just received from the state office, it is expected that a large proportion of the county associations in the state will be represented.

always a very attractive feature of the convention, will be one of very great interest this year. This department will be in the hands of the Practical Supply Co., of Chicago, and in the direct charge of H. L. Mills, manager of the company. Mr. Mills is an old Sunday school man, having been Sunday school superintendent and an active worker for a number of years so that his understanding of just what workers need is keen and very live, and he will have a list of material and suggestions to make to workers regarding books and supplies for Sunday schools that will be backed up with a rich experience.

The convention communion service will be an outstanding feature of the program and will be held on Sunday afternoon at 5 p. m. The experience last year has led the committee to plan for its repetition this year. Dr. H. C. Swearingen, pastor of the House of Hope Presbyterian church, St. Paul, will be the officiating clergyman.

The matter of law enforcement will be discussed by W. L. Smithies, executive secretary of the St. Louis County Sunday School Association, one who has a good deal to do with the plans of law enforcement that have been inaugurated and carried out in Duluth and its vicinity.

Altogether, this will be a great convention, probably the largest that will visit Brainerd for some time. It is hoped that the citizens will do all in their power to make it a success, and reflect credit upon themselves and the city in the way they entertain their guests from all over the state as well as from outside points.

"I haven't done a thing wrong, and I am not worried," she said today. "This murder charge is a frameup—low, dirty trick by Frank."

The woman's married life with McNally, her second husband, has been far from peaceful. McNally charged that she gave birth to the twins—children of her first husband—last December, a short time after she had entered into her second marriage.

"I never saw the children," McNally said, "although I was living in the house at the time. But I know they were there. She kept them until February when she bought a couple of dolls and told me what I had thought was the twins were really the dolls."

"I never saw them because I really never had any children," said Mrs. McNally.

Examination of the birth records showed that any children she may have had were not registered.

Joe Todd, prosecuting attorney, declared he had strong accusations against the girl.

"At the arraignment Wednesday I will show fully all of the evidence I have," said Todd.

Among the witnesses which Todd will summon, is Doctor Cyrus W. Campbell, who examined Mrs. McNally a short time before the children were born. The prosecutor will attempt to introduce evidence through surgeons to disprove the alibi of barrenness.

This is the second charge which Mrs. McNally has faced as the result of her husband's accusations. She was arrested in South Bend recently on a charge of beating her husband, but was released after five days, and re-arrested immediately for the alleged murder.

The girl has been made the pet of the Hammond police. She is comfortable in the tiny woman's cell of the town jail with magazines, a rocking chair, flowers, many blankets, and everything needed.

Through her vivacious winning smile and her straight-forward story, she has succeeded in convincing her jailors that she is innocent.

DETLOFF GETS LIFE; SENTENCED TODAY

Austin, Minn., Oct. 17.—August Detloff, accused of the brutal murder of his wife's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Wagner, at Grand Meadow, was sentenced to life imprisonment today by District Judge Meighan.

Detloff was arraigned at 9 a. m. and at 9:10 was on his way back to jail, sentenced for life.

He identified a confession signed August 6th in which he told of entering the home of the aged couple at Grand Meadow, July 12th, and assaulting them both with an axe. Mr. Wagner was dead when found. His wife lived a week, but never regained consciousness. They were wealthy and Detloff had hoped, he said, that his wife, their daughter, would inherit part of their estate.

PARENTS PREPARE TO WELCOME GIRL HOME THANKSGIVING

FURTHER REVELATIONS MADE ABOUT DISAPPEARANCE OF LORRAINE SCHNEIDER

THE FACT THAT SHE WAS FOUND ALIVE REVEALED BY THE MINNEAPOLIS JOURNAL

In spite of denials made by the Associated Press and United Press that Loraine Schneider had been found, the Minneapolis Journal Sunday printed a story of her discovery and on Monday followed with this story:

At the little country home of Anton Schneider, near Albany, Minn., preparations were being made Monday for the homecoming of their daughter, Loraine, who mysteriously disappeared from a Minneapolis hotel last March, but who has been found alive long after she had been given up for dead.

"She is coming home, perhaps at Thanksgiving, surely by Christmas," Mrs. Schneider said, tears coming to her eyes as she envisaged the joyful reunion.

Further revelations regarding Loraine's remarkable fate, which completely baffled police and scores of private detectives in the most mysterious disappearance ever recorded in the northwest, were made to The Journal by Mr. and Mrs. Schneider.

Two questions brought the answer: "I cannot tell you. Not just yet. Perhaps a little later."

They were: "Where is Loraine now?" and "What was the reason for her abduction, or disappearance?"

"She is a good girl," the mother said. "She is well and happy. And soon she will be coming home to us. What else is there to say?"

Letters to Emily Schneider, her sister, brought the welcome news that Loraine was alive, the parents said, and ended the terrible suspense which had brought tragedy into the happy family group.

"From Minneapolis she went to Omaha," the father said, showing letters, as Mrs. Schneider listened closely, now and then interposing an explanatory comment.

"From Omaha she went to Denver, where she sought refuge in the Santa Rosa convent. Leaving the convent after a few days, she obtained a position as cashier in a motion picture theatre, but the wage was so small that she had difficulty in getting along."

"She wrote to Emily and I sent her $250."

"Up to that time she knew nothing of the sensation caused by her disappearance.

"Everyone was so ready to criticize and gossip," Mrs. Schneider interrupted with vehemence. "It was terrible."

"Finally Loraine got so lonesome that she wrote Emily and it was arranged that they meet each other."

"Loraine came east, Emily met her, and then she went away again to take a new position."

Loraine came to Minneapolis on a shopping expedition Saturday, March 17, and registered at the Andrews hotel. She was to return Monday. She never came back.

A search was started. In the room at the hotel, investigators found her purse, a coat she had purchased for a younger sister, Ida, a potted plant bought as a gift for her mother, and her personal effects. A $700 fur coat she purchased for herself had been sent to Avon.

Evidence indicated that Miss Schneider had left the room sometime Sunday, but there was no clue as to her whereabouts or fate. Detectives searched the northwest, then the entire United States, in vain. The fact that she had been found alive was revealed by the Sunday Minneapolis Journal.

PARENTS PREPARE TO WELCOME GIRL
HOME THANKSGIVING

FURTHER REVELATIONS MADE ABOUT DISAPPEARANCE OF LORRAINE SCHNEIDER

THE FACT THAT SHE WAS FOUND ALIVE REVEALED BY THE
 MINNEAPOLIS JOURNAL

In spite of denials made by the Associated Press and United Press that Lorraine Schneider had been found, the Minneapolis Journal Sunday printed a story of her discovery and on Monday followed with this story:

At the little country home of Anton Schneider, near Albany, Minn., preparations were being made Monday for the homecoming of their daughter, Lorraine, who mysteriously disappeared from a Minneapolis hotel last March, but who has been found alive long after she had been given up for dead.

"She is coming home, perhaps at Thanksgiving, surely by Christmas," Mrs. Schneider said, tears coming to her eyes as she envisaged the joyful reunion.

Further revelations regarding Lorraine's remarkable fate, which completely baffled police and scores of private detectives in the most mysterious disappearance ever recorded in the northwest, were made to The Journal by Mr. and Mrs. Schneider.

Two questions brought the answer:
 "I cannot tell you. Not just yet. Perhaps a little later."

They were: "Where is Lorraine now?" and "What was the reason for her abduction, or disappearance?"

"She is a good girl," the mother said.
 "She is well and happy. And soon she will be coming home to us. What else is there to say?"

Letters to Emily Schneider, her sister, brought the welcome news that Lorraine was alive, the parents said, and ended the terrible suspense which had brought tragedy into the happy family group.

"From Minneapolis she went to Omaha," the father said, showing letters, as Mrs. Schneider listened closely, now and then interposing an explanatory comment.

"From Omaha she went to Denver, where she sought refuge in the Santa Rosa convent. Leaving the convent after a few days, she obtained a position as cashier in a motion picture theatre, but the wage was so small that she had difficulty in getting along.

"She wrote to Emily and I sent her $250.

"Up to that time she knew nothing of the sensation caused by her disappearance.

"Everyone was so ready to criticize and gossip," Mrs. Schneider interrupted with vehemence. "It was terrible."
 "Finally Lorraine got so lonesome that she wrote Emily and it was arranged that they meet each other.

"Lorraine came east, Emily met her, and then she went away again to take a new position."

A search was started. In the room at the hotel, investigators found her purse, a coat she had purchased for a younger sister, Ida, a potted plant bought as a gift for her mother, and her personal effects. A $700 fur coat she purchased for herself had been sent to Avon.

Evidence indicated that Miss Schneider had left the room sometime Sunday, but there was no clue as to her whereabouts or fate. Detectives searched the northwest, then the entire United States, in vain. The fact that she had been found alive was revealed by the Sunday Minneapolis Journal.

CONTRALTO CHARMS THE MUSICAL CLUB

Miss Mabel Pelletier of Minneapolis
Has Wide Range and Excellent
Control of Voice

RECITAL WAS ON SATURDAY

Mrs. J. A. Thabes Entertained, the Occasion Being "President's Day"
at Opening of Season

On Saturday the season of the musical club of Brainerd opened with "President's Day," when Mrs. J. A. Thabes entertained. The artist of the day was Miss Mabel Pelletier of Minneapolis, who first of all charmed the eye with herself, and then pleased even the most critical music lover with her lovely contralto voice and the feeling with which she interpreted her songs. She had a wide range and excellent control of her voice, especially when the song demanded an outpouring of sustained notes—smooth and easily flowing, always without any effort.

She gave four groups of songs, all too few for the audience, who would gladly have had more. They were all enjoyable, but a few stood out as more affecting—Tchaikowski's "Nur wer die Sehnsucht kennt", where even those unfamiliar with the German tongue could sense in the singer's interpretation the longing for the unattainable that overwhelmed the composer. Massenet's "Elegie" left a similar effect of sadness. The appeal of the mother tongue was very evident when a spontaneous ripple of applause burst from the audience when Miss Pelletier announced that her last group would be in English. There were five delightful songs in that group of which "A Little Winding Road" and "My Heart is a Lute" were the most pleasing. The entire program was delightful, partly because the accompanist, Mrs. Walter Wieland, added the necessary finishing touches in her sympathetic accompaniment to the songs.

Business matters were interpolated between groups of songs, when Mrs. Thabes announced various committees and other matters of business. The membership, which last year reached almost four hundred is expected to approach that number this year.

It is hoped to continue the "Junior Musical" which will carry on its work of studying the great operas. The "Study Club", which last year took up various phases of art in the home, will probably continue along the line of art, but whether the members will concentrate upon pictures or poetry or some other phase is not yet decided.

The first concert of the year will be in the Park theatre, when Dumesnil, the great French pianist, will appear. To those whom the piano does not especially appeal comes the opportunity of hearing one of the great masters, who will evoke such music that one cannot fail to be moved. In connection with this artist the club had an interesting incident. An advance agent for a concert company attempted to interest the club in his artists, not knowing that the year's program was already arranged. When he was told that we had this artist on our program, he at once explained his admiration for the man and his art—that he is a big man—a six-footer, and that his bigness as a musician is commensurate with his size.

On Hallowe'en, from time immemorial, the witches dance and ghostly shades steal out upon the unwary passerby, who must needs be made of stern stuff if he does not flee in terror, or long for the first cockerow so that these haunting shades may, perforce, return to their abiding place for another year.

On October the thirty-first, in the weird hours of the night, an intrepid group will brave the dangers of that day and assemble for pleasure-fing defiance to all spirits that wait abroad. In this town are many of the fair sex who pursue prosaic duties during the day, but when their labors are over, they have a meeting place for pleasure in the evening. The "Business Woman's Club" has a committee hard at work to arrange for the first get-together of the year—a Hallowe'en party. Just what is to be done is kept on inviolate secret by the committee, but there are rumors that those who attend the party will be transported to the days of their youth, and added to that find much that they have never before heard. A SUCCESSFUL MAN

Among the notable professional men of this country who achieved great success along strictly legitimate lines was Dr. R. V. Pierce. Devoting his attention to the specialty of women's disease, he became a recognized authority in that line.

Over fifty years ago this noted physician gave to the world a Prescription which has never been equaled for the weakness of women. Dr. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., long since found out what is naturally best for women's diseases. He learned it all thru treating thousands of cases. The result of his studies was a medicine called Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription. This medicine is made of vegetable growths that nature surely intended for backache, headache, weakening pains, and for the many disorders common to women in all ages of life. Women who take this standard remedy know that in Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription they are getting a safe woman's tonic so good that druggists everywhere sell it in both tablet and fluid form.

Send 10c to Dr. Pierce's Invalids Hotel in Buffalo, N. Y., for trial pkg. Write for free medical advice.

"But our schedule—" argued Mr. Farmer.

The pilot handed them into the airplane. Soon they were high above the earth and the possibility of effective protest. Skimming through the sky, they swooped down into Monmouth. President Merillat with a committee showed them the proposed home site. Then generously he sent them in the airplane to Peoria where they had plenty of time to inspect the site there before their crowded day ended. And thanks to the ying machine that makes a jest of time and distance, they were able to keep their schedule.

Rivalry is keen among it all over the country to obtain the Yeomen's home. Sites have been offered in every state. A tract of 2,000 acres is required. Built on the cottage plan, the home will form a veritable village with post-office, bank, stores, gardens, dairy and school of its own. It will house 1,500 children.

Room Friday Evening

The Brotherhood of the First Baptist church will serve a banquet in the church dining room Friday evening at 6 o'clock to all men of the church, and also to any of the men of the city or from the Sunday school convention which is in session at that time.

There has been a big feast provided, both for the inner man and for his entertainment as well, as a number of good after-dinner speakers are on the program.

Tickets for this banquet will be only 50c, due to several donations which have been made. The young ladies of the church will serve. All who desire tickets are asked to make the fact known to any of the committeemen before the hour of the dinner.

Serving will begin promptly at 6 o'clock, so that the program will be completed in time for all to attend the evening session of the convention.

The committee in charge consists of T. G. Cutler, chairman; A. Peterson, and A. Gustafson.

It is needless to review the coal situation today. You well know that it behooves everyone to lay in a supply for the coming winter. Right now we have "ACME SMOOTLESS" furnace coal in stock in a quantity that can care for your early needs.

"ACME SMOOTLESS" Furnace Coal is clean and bright like anthracite; it is a real comfort to whoever has to keep the house warm; it starts quickly; it keeps the fire overnight; it gives out heat a plenty; makes no clinkers. Properly burned it makes but little light-colored smoke and does not fill the house and cellar with coal dust.

You won't find a better furnace coal than ACME. Let's have your order today.

PRESIDENT REA'S COMMUNICATION

THE Dispatch is honored by receiving a communication from Samuel Rea, president of the Pennsylvania Railroad System. Despite the fact that the communication takes issue with our editorial opinion as expressed in our columns on September 11, the Dispatch was pleased to print Mr. Rea's letter in full in last Saturday evening's issue. Inasmuch as this paper has freely opened its columns to both parties to the controversy, has been ready at all times to present statements from either side, and has known that because it is not infallible it was liable to error, it has always stood ready to correct any erroneous attitude that it might take during the controversy.

The Dispatch has never wished to be drawn into a controversy, and would not wish to enter into a controversy with Mr. Rea either at this time or at any time in the future. However, the statements contained in the editorial from which the president of the Pennsylvania Railroad quoted must stand as printed. In affirming that this railroad had "refused to abide by rulings of the labor board in many cases," the Dispatch had carefully gathered information, on the basis of which it made its statement.

In saying what it did the Dispatch had the advantage of exalted company. President Harding in his message to congress, dealing with the industrial problems arising out of the coal strike and the railroad strike said, in speaking of the failure of the railroads to obey the rulings of the labor board, "When these failures of many of the railroads to abide by decisions of the board were brought to my attention I could more thoroughly appraise the feelings of the strikers though they had a remedy without seeking to paralyze interstate commerce." And again, in speaking of the attitude of certain railroads to labor, the chief executive of the nation said, "The government has no sympathy or approval for this element of discord in the ranks of industry. Any legislation in the future must be as free from this element of trouble making as it is from labor extremists who strive for class domination." We concluded that the Pennsylvania was one of the railroads coming under the presidential indictment, and we have had no reason to revise our conclusions.

The Dispatch did not enter into the merits of the Pennsylvania plan. It affirmed that this railroad, by violating rulings of the labor board, was largely responsible for precipitating the strike. This statement was printed in a city of 10,000 population that has suffered as a result of over 1,000 of its citizens leaving their work. If the conditions at home led to the use of an adjective in describing the tactics of the Pennsylvania that in any way offended the president of this railroad, the Dispatch gladly recalls that descriptive term, conceding that such definitions of tactics make the tactics neither better nor worse. The relations of this railroad to its employees and the labor board are well known, and we were ill-advised in using adjectives to describe them; their character is self-evident.

We were not thinking at all of the number of men in the Pennsylvania shops when the article was written. We were appealing for a settlement of the strike that was precipitated by the attitude of certain railroads to their employees and the labor board, and while the Pennsylvania undoubtedly had built up its shop force this had not been done in a way that would help towards a national settlement of the controversy.

In the same editorial we stated that Bert M. Jewell had made a strategic blunder and further said that the president of the Pennsylvania railroad "is a man" whose attitude to labor might change even though a leopard does not change its spots.

The Dispatch has no fight with any constructive program of the Pennsylvania. The break up of the struggle for a national agreement has affected the situation so that the Pennsylvania is, with other roads, working on a system basis. All we did was to point to its record, and if we censured the railroad for the abuses that record contains that was our right in our columns. If the concluding words of the communication suggest, that while we have criticized the railroad we have nothing constructive to offer on its industrial plan, the suggestion may be correct. A newspaper may point out abuses without arrogantly claiming ability to present a constructive program for their correction. It has reason to expect that legislative injustices and industrial wrongs will be corrected by legislators in one case and by trained industrial experts, employed by the railroads, in the other.

BRITISH LABOR LOSES GROUND

WHEN in 1914 Great Britain entered the World war British labor by a steady advance had reached a position where it promised a serious fight with the old parties for control of the government of Great Britain. Step by step, through fifty years, it had advanced consistently towards this position. Its leaders were men of commanding ability; such names as Wilson, Burt, Crawford, Arch, Henderson commanded respect. These were not men who hurled their attacks at management without having a constructive policy to suggest. They were trained, constructive labor leaders who had come up from the bottom themselves but in climbing had studied every step of the way and were able to point out corrections in the conditions of the work of the men who elected them as their representatives.

Some years before the war, labor began to listen to the nostrums of new leaders. These were men who had not prepared themselves for constructive leadership but who had learned the art of creating and fostering a spirit of unrest. Without any knowledge of political economy, but possessing unusual ability to stir up audiences to a point of frenzy, these men who had an advantage on the platform over the more thorough but less bombastic prophets who preached steady advance, gained the ears of the rank and file of labor. Honored leaders of the old school were treated to shameful abuse and a few, bearing all things, stood true to themselves and their constituents and refused to be carried away by extremists.

But the work of radical leaders in time undermined the constructive programs of tried leaders. The scope of the organizations saw an ever enlarging horizon until national agreements with uniform wage scales eclipsed all other agreements in the minds of the leaders of labor and of the men they led. The labor program formulated during the war, while it called for many things that are socialistic in character, had the advantage of being prepared by the more able leaders; and even Lord Northcliffe believed that labor would control the destiny of England.

Then came the coal strike with its demand for a national agreement and uniform wages. It failed. The public became antagonized, and labor has lost, through extremists, the ground it had gained by a steady and consistent advance.

Charge Fraudulent Use of Mails

Sioux Falls, Oct. 17.—Three Los Angeles men will go on trial here today for alleged fraudulent use of the mails. They were arrested June 17 by N. M. Hughes, St. Paul, and Nathan Neile, New York. The men arrested gave their names as Fred C. Sawyer, salesman, C. H. Burlingame, banker, and B. I. Sallinger, attorney.

They were said to have used the mails for the purpose of fraudulently selling stock in the Midland Packing Co., Sioux City, Iowa.

Courier-News Title Suit

Fargo, Oct. 17.—The answer of Wm. Lemke, attorney for the executive committee of the national nonpartisan league, following withdrawal of a demurrer interposed last spring in the Courier-News title suit, must be on file today with the clerk of courts in Cass county.

Early last spring a group of non-partisans secured an injunction against the national executive committee restraining them from interfering with the Courier-News. It was reported at the time the paper was to be sold and the plaintiffs stated it was their purpose to invest the ownership of the paper in the league rather than in individuals.

Some of the plaintiffs it is known are now desirous of settling the suit. Others wish to secure a trial.

Defendants in the case are: A. C. Townley, Herbert Gaston, Frank B. Wood, John Thompson, and The Non-partisan Publishing company.

Plaintiffs are G. E. Peterson, M. H. Johnson, Kristian Hohl, H. A. Nelson, Alfred Munter, Owen Solberg, F. L. Brannan, F. C. Keller, Fred Keitzman, and O. A. Kaidor.

Manure Fertilizer Valuable

Fargo, Oct. 17.—Manure fertilizer has increased corn and grain yields ten to one hundred per cent and decreased production costs in the last ten years on the Amenias Sharon Land company farms, according to A. E. Curren, superintendent.

Two to six thousand sheep, in addition to cows and horses, are kept on the farm in the winter.

FIVE BANDITS STEAL $50,000 OF WHISKEY

(By United Press.)
Louisville, Ky., Oct. 17.—Five bandits with shot guns early today bound and gagged three guards at the Rugby distillery and escaped with three truck loads of case whiskey estimated to be worth $50,000.

The guards were attacked at 1:20 a. m. The telephone wires were cut. Robert Parry, watchman, tore the skin from his hands in releasing himself, and notified the police.

"PITY POOR COLLEGE PROFESSOR," SAYS WIFE OF "U" INSTRUCTOR

Berkeley, Calif., Oct. 17.—"The poor working girl" has it "all over" a college professor, in the matter of allowances made by employers for subsistence, according to Mrs. Dorothy Hart Bruce, wife of H. L. Bruce, of the faculty of the University of California. In a letter published in the University Chronicle, a faculty publication, Mrs. Bruce takes issue with the budget for household expenses for faculty members recently announced by the board of regents.

Mrs. Bruce said in the letter that the professor's wife must "choose between childlessness or the anguish and humiliation of many years of debt and drudgery" if she expects to live on the salary of her instructor husband. She said eight other wives of faculty members agreed with her.

SPECIAL INCOME TAX BY STATES UPHELD

Washington, Oct. 17.—States have the right to levy a special tax on incomes for special purposes, such as the maintenance of public schools, the supreme court held yesterday.

This was announced by the court in upholding the Massachusetts state law of 1919 placing a special tax on incomes to raise funds for paying higher salaries to public school teachers.

The court held, in effect that public school maintenance is a general and statewide purpose that properly can be accomplished out of state funds.

OFFERS TO SELL SELF IN BONDAGE

Dallas, Texas, Oct. 17.—Rose Palmer, 22 and pretty, offered today to sell herself into bondage to the highest bidder.

She wrote a local newspaper that her half-brother and his wife who had been supporting her were unable to find work and that she was willing to "sell herself" for several years or "for life" in order to repay them for their kindness, in their present hour of need.

A reporter found her in a cheap boarding house, recovering from a severe attack of fever, too weak to rise from her bed as she told her story.

LADIES PROTEST AGAINST LICENSE

Present Petition to City Council Objecting to Issuing Pool Hall License on Ash Ave.

CITY FINANCES REPORT GIVEN

Paving Joints to be Repaired on Oak Street Between Sixth and Ninth Streets

The regular semi-monthly meeting of the city council was held on Monday evening, all members being present with the exception of Aldermen Lyons, Cameron and Cordes.

Protest Against License Being Issued

A number of ladies from Northeast Brainerd appeared before the council with a petition signed by a majority of the women in that district, protesting against the issuing of a license to A. A. Zawadzki, at his place of business on Ash avenue, claiming that such a business should not be conducted in localities not under strict police supervision.

Upon motion, the petition was ordered filed until such time as a license was requested by Mr. Zawadzki, when it will be taken up for action.

Reports on Finances

City Treasurer Richard Hise made a report on the finances of the city, and W. D. McKay, secretary of the Water & Light Board reported on the finances of his department. It was moved that the matter of appealing to the sinking fund commissioners be referred to the finance committee.

Mr. McKay presented the matter of a $5,000 bond, which falls due next month, and asked that a resolution be passed permitting the borrowing of this amount from the sinking fund. The resolution was passed to allow this loan, the city to take up the bond and the interest-bearing coupons in exchange as security.

Money Due From County

The matter of collecting $3,000 from Crow Wing county which the county agreed to pay toward the paving done the past year, was referred to the finance committee and the city attorney, who are to request the payment of this amount at the next meeting of the county commissioners.

Paving Joints to be Repaired

The city engineer was ordered to get in touch with the proper state crew, and see that they repair paving joints on Oak street, between 6th and 10th streets. This work was to be kept up by the state crew, and a number of repairs on this section are needed at this time.

Bus License Renewal

A. J. Hartman appeared before the council and asked for a renewal of his bus license, for operation of a bus line to Northeast Brainerd, and upon motion this license was granted and ordered issued.

Upon motion the membership in the League of Municipalities of Minnesota and the Minnesota Public Utilities Rate Bulletin were ordered purchased.

Extend Grading Contract

The Clusiau & Lieberg contract for the grading of 10th and Quince streets, upon application, was ordered extended to November 1st.

The Iron Range Townsite Co., has started an action against the city for the return of the money paid for their bus licenses, the company being represented by Swanson & Swanson, attorneys. The matter was referred to the city attorney for the action that he sees fit.

The city engineer was instructed to put in curbing in front of the H. E. Kundert residence at 93 West Bluff avenue, which had been approved and paid for by the applicant some time ago, but held up on account of the cement shortage.

The first half of the payrolls for October were ordered paid subject to the approval of the finance committee, after which the council adjourned.

MILK KEPT PURE

Work of Dr. R. A. Hallquist, City Dairy Inspector, Tends to Preserve Quality of Milk and Cream

Dr. R. A. Hallquist, city dairy inspector, is one of the busiest of the city employees, although little has been heard of his work or his accomplishments.

For some little time prior to the installation of this office, citizens of Brainerd had been asking that an inspector be added to the city officials and closer attention given to the city milk supplies.

Dr. Hallquist has been quietly carrying out this work with exceptionally good results. Not only does he give the milk and cream several rigid tests, but he visits the dairy herds and personally examines the individual animals for diseases which would contaminate the milk.

Sediment tests of the milk sold in the city by the different dairies are made in Dr. Hallquist's office. The test is a very simple one, but very effective. The contents of a bottle of milk as it comes from the dairy are forced through a filter disk, which holds any impurities that may be in the milk. These disks are affixed to a chart and form an interesting display in the inspector's office.

The milk and cream test for butterfat is made at any of the local creameries, which are equipped with the proper machinery for this work, thus saving the city several hundred dollars, the cost of the equipment if it were necessary to buy it.

The condition of the city's milk supply is of the utmost importance to every citizen, and more interest should be displayed in the good work that Dr. Hallquist is doing. His reports are handed to the city council once a month, and are published in the Dispatch for the information of interested readers.

HIGH SCHOOL REPORTS

This is for the eyes of high school parents. Some of your children will be glad to have you know this—some few will be reluctant. On Tuesday the first reports come out—the record of six weeks work.

The high school faculty asks that all parents scrutinize the report cards very carefully before they sign them. All failures will be in red ink, and if your child comes home with such a card, it should make clear that he or she is not putting enough time on their subjects. If his marks are low, if his department is likewise and if, added to that, he puts in very little time at home, there is only one logical conclusion—that he should remedy all those defects by better application at home and at school. There are very few students who are mentally incapable of passing—failures are due to lack of work.

The department marks are the result of careful consideration in an assembly of all the faculty—no mark is the opinion of any one teacher, but of all who have the child in any way. There is a class at four o'clock for those who fail, to give them uninterrupted study in a separate room in charge of a teacher, so if your child has a failure in any subject, you may know that he is in the "Hope Class", all of whom hope to get out.

WOMEN VOTERS IN BIG RALLY

Set for Tuesday Afternoon, Oct. 24th, at Farmers Room in the New Court House

WOMEN OF VOTING AGE ASKED

Program Committee Consists of Mesdames W. C. Cobb, W. H. Cleary and S. Newman

(Contributed)

At a meeting of the directors of the League of Women Voters on Monday, arrangements were made for a grand rally to be held in the Farmers' room at the new court house Tuesday afternoon, Oct. 24th, beginning at 3 o'clock.

We want all women of voting age to come to this rally. The program committee which consist of Mesdames W. C. Cobb, W. H. Cleary and S. Newman, will be able to report in a few days, when the program, in detail will be given out.

At the recent state convention of the League, it was decided that the most necessary thing to be done, is to get the women out to vote. In order to carry out this work in Brainerd the chair appointed the following chairmen:

High school—Miss Mary Tornstrom.

Grade schools—Miss Mary Walsh.

1st ward—Mrs. C. B. Rowley.

2nd ward—Mrs. A. C. Weber.

3rd ward—Mrs. W. C. Rasch.

4th ward—Mrs. Harry Anderson.

5th ward—Mrs. J. M. Hayes.

These ladies, through their committees, are to make a house to house canvass. This means a great deal of strenuous work, but was considered to be by far the most effective method.

Women voters of Brainerd! Come out to the rally and learn about the value of your vote, have the city and state amendments explained and ask any questions concerning what you want to know. There is no politics connected with this, it is simply and solely to help in intelligent voting which means so much for the welfare of yourselves and your families.

BRYAN AND NORRIS TWIN CITY SPEAKERS

William Jennings Bryan will speak at the Hippodrome, State Fair Grounds, Sunday, Oct. 22, at 2:30 p. m. He will be in Minneapolis but the one day as guest of Dr. W. B. Riley.

On the same day Dr. J. Frank Norris, of Fort Worth, Texas, will speak at the First Baptist church at 11 a. m. and the Swedish Tabernacle at 2:30 p. m. Dr. Norris is pastor of the largest church and Sunday school in the world. He is a young man but wields a mighty influence and because of his persistent fight has brought many of the bootleggers and other evil doers of the Southland to bay. He has all the fire of Southern oratory. He will remain in Minneapolis during the week, speaking daily.

Presbyterian Ladies Aid There will be an important business meeting of the Presbyterian Ladies Aid on Wednesday afternoon at the church to arrange for the banquet on Saturday evening for the Sunday school convention. Members are all urged to be present.

First Baptist Aid The Ladies Aid of the First Baptist church will be entertained Wednesday afternoon, Oct. 18th, by Mrs. P. F. Grondin and Mrs. Foote, at the home of Mrs. Grondin, 618 4th St. South. All members are urged to be present. Visitors are always welcome.

Former Brainerd Girl Outlines Proposed Legislative Nursing Bill in St. Paul Meeting

The St. Paul Pioneer Press of Monday has the following to say concerning Miss Irene English, superintendent of the Northern Pacific hospital, and a former Brainerd girl:

The proposed legislative nursing bill was outlined Friday night by Irene English, superintendent of the Northern Pacific hospital and president of the Minnesota Registered Nurses association, at a meeting of the St. Joseph Hospital Alumni association.

The meeting took place in St. Joseph's hospital. More than fifty members attended.

Miss English was with the N. P. hospital in the same capacity while it was located in Brainerd. She was raised in this city, and naturally has many friends here who will be glad to hear of her work.

SPEAK R AT HIGH SCHOOL

President Harriet of Hamline University Addressed Pupils on Monday Morning

On Monday at 11:30 o'clock President Kerfoot of Hamline university spoke to the assembled high school, mixed grade and advanced eighth grades. He held them for half an hour with a serious message, interpolated with rather clever illustrations.

He classified all students as three types—Those who go to school because they want to go; those who go because their parents send them; and those who are sentenced to school against their will—these are the trouble makers. Again: he compared the student to an engine. To some, the steam seems to be the sole purpose of letting off steam thru the safety valve or the whistle, forgetting that the real purpose of the steam was to run the engine. So with children—all their energy is not for play or talk but primarily for work. He said that some ran on the schedule in the Lincoln story—a four foot engine and a six foot whistle.

He said, too, that the students should learn to work their teachers.

At that a ripple of laughter ran over the room, for a good many were trying that very thing. He explained, however, that by working the teacher he meant that the student should get every bit of help that the teacher could give—not just marks, but all the training and education and background of the teacher. There is no reason why the student who wants to go to college cannot go, for a means can always be found. He said various other good things. Then the school let off steam in two great cheers, led by the cheer leaders, John Gould and Vernon Dieckhaus.

LADIES PROTEST AGAINST LICENSE

Present Petition to City Council Objecting to Issuing Pool Hall License on Ash Ave.

CITY FINANCES REPORT GIVEN

Paving Joints to be Repaired on Oak Street Between Sixth and Nineteenth Streets

The regular semi-monthly meeting of the city council was held on Monday evening, all members being present with the exception of Aldermen Lyonais, Cameron and Cordes.

Protest Against License Being Issued

A number of ladies from Northeast Brainerd appeared before the council with a petition signed by a majority of the women in that district, protesting against the issuing of a license to A. A. Zawadzki, at his place of business on Ash avenue, claiming that such a business should not be conducted in localities not under strict police supervision.

Upon motion, the petition was ordered filed until such time as a license was requested by Mr. Zawadzki, when it will be taken up for action.

Reports on Finances

City Treasurer Richard Hise made a report on the finances of the city, and W. D. McKay, secretary of the Water & Light Board reported on the finances of his department. It was moved that the matter of appealing to the sinking fund commissioners be referred to the finance committee.

Mr. McKay presented the matter of a $5,000 bond, which falls due next month, and asked that a resolution be passed permitting the borrowing of this amount from the sinking fund. The resolution was passed to allow this loan, the city to take up the bond and the interest-bearing coupons in exchange as security.

Money Due From County

The matter of collecting $3,000 from Crow Wing county which the county agreed to pay toward the paving done the past year, was referred to the finance committee and the city attorney, who are to request the payment of this amount at the next meeting of the county commissioners.

Paving Joints to be Repaired

The city engineer was ordered to get in touch with the proper state crew, and see that they repair paving joints on Oak street, between 6th and 19th streets. This work was to be kept up by the state crew, and a number of repairs on this section are needed at this time.

Bus License Renewal

A. J. Hartman appeared before the council and asked for a renewal of his bus license, for operation of a bus line to Northeast Brainerd, and upon motion this license was granted and ordered issued.

Upon motion the membership in the League of Municipalities of Minnesota and the Minnesota Public Utilities Rate Bulletin were ordered purchased.

Extend Grading Contract

The Clusiau & Lieberg contract for the grading of 10th and Quince streets, upon application, was ordered extended to November 1st.

The Iron Range Townsite Co., has started an action against the city for the return of the money paid for their bus licenses, the company being represented by Swanson & Swanson, attorneys. The matter was referred to the city attorney for the action that he sees fit.

The city engineer was instructed to put in curbing in front of the H. E. Kundert residence at 93 West Bluff avenue, which had been approved and paid for by the applicant some time ago, but held up on account of the cement shortage.

The first half of the payrolls for October were ordered paid subject to the approval of the finance committee, after which the council adjourned.

COLLINS OR BAKER AS YANKS' BOSS

By HENRY L. FARRELL
United Press Sports Editor

New York, Oct. 17.—While official verification is lacking, it is generally reported and believed more or less in baseball circles that the New York Yankees will have a new manager at the helm next season.

It has become a matter of habit for New York fans to relieve Huggins of his job after the end of every season, but the club owners did not seem to be of the same mind.

The reported retirement of the Yankee leader this year is said to be voluntary and to be brought on by ill health.

The little New York manager broke down almost completely during the pennant race this year. His job never has been easy, the credit he received from winning two pennants never equalled the criticism his leadership drew and he has never been any too strong to carry the load that his position places on his shoulders.

Last year it was reported that Wilbert Robinson was to get the team, as he is a great favorite of Capt. T.H. Huston, half-owner of the Yankees, but it is not probable that the Brooklyn club would be willing to part with Uncle Robby.

This year the gossips have picked Eddie Collins, the great White Sox star, as the next manager of the American League champions. Eddie hasn't many more years to go and he wants to try his hand at management.

Frank Baker, the war horse of the old Athletics, has also been suggested as a possibility.

Baker announced recently that he was going to retire for good at the end of the season, but he might change his mind if he had the chance to become the boss.

Houston is also a great admirer of Baker and as the check for Collins would have to be large size, the veteran Home Run King might get the selection if Huggins decides to get out of the job.

Dean Charles R. Brown of the Yale Divinity School in addressing the members of the Freshman class recently held up William Howard Taft, justice of the supreme court and former president and Malcolm Aldrich as the two finest examples of Yale's ideals.

Aldrich, All-American halfback and captain and star of the football and baseball teams was a "quiet modest sort of a fellow, who had not come from an expensive, exclusive preparatory school, but from a commonplace manufacturing town in Massachusetts. He had none of the advantages that go with wealth and social position but he made his name to conjure with."

In addition to his athletic prowess, Aldrich was honor man of his class.

Philadelphia has been nursing an ambition for a long time to develop some kind of a ring champion.

Lew Tendler was a bright prospect for the lightweight championship for several years and he is yet, but they doubt that the southpaw star will get another chance at Benny Leonard.

Bobby Berrett was a big hope for a time, but he was brought along too fast and passed out rather ingloriously.

Tommy Loughran, a middleweight is now the rage. His great showing recently against Harry Greb, the American light heavyweight champion, and Gene Tunney, the former champion, made him a fine prospect.

He is still under the voting age and if he is not handled unwisely as Barrett was, he ought to go a long way in the game, if he never gets a title.

With Battling Siki and Pancho Villa occupying places in championship row, the old wall for a white hope will be in order soon. There is the Spanish Firpo looking up in the distance and one Harry Wills also is a somebody to figure.

PRESENCE OF RECTOR STOPPED PAIN IN MRS. MILLS' ACHING TOOTH

ANOTHER LOVE NOTE FROM MRS. MILLS TO PASTOR IS MADE PUBLIC

NEW PROBE INTO DOUBLE MURDER INAUGURATED AT COURT HOUSE

(By United Press.)
New Brunswick, N. J., Oct. 17.—Mrs. Edward Wheeler Hall and her brothers, Henry and Willie Stevens, were questioned today in the investigation of the murder of Rev. Edward Wheeler Hall and Mrs. Eleanor Mills.

The widow, heavily veiled and accompanied by her eccentric brother Willie, arrived at the court house while Henry Stevens, millionaire, was being questioned. Mrs. Hall was followed by her maid, Miss Gertrude Geist, and her close friend, Sally Peters.

Willie Stevens, brother, was very jaunty as he walked up the court house steps, smiling and waving at the crowd which had assembled about the entrance when rumors spread that important developments in the murder mystery were imminent.

Mrs. Hall walked slowly up the court house steps with her head bowed. She did not look at her fellow townsmen who crowded about. This was the first time in the probe of the murder that all three members of the family have been brought together at one time.

Mrs. Hall had repeatedly denied on the occasion of previous questioning that she knew of the relations of her husband and the wife of the church sexton.

Hundreds of persons keyed up to excitement brought about by the latest developments of the mystery, swarmed around the court house as the probe was resumed.

A letter written by Mrs. Mills to her pastor, came to light today. It read: "Dear heart: How dear it was of you to accompany me to the dentist yesterday. Things would have been different if you had not been along. There was no pain during the extraction and none following it."

Mrs. Addison Clark, friend and at times confidant of Mrs. Mills, was to be questioned by authorities later in the day.

Questioning in Progress

New Brunswick, Oct. 17.—Mrs. Edward Wheeler Hall and her two brothers, Henry and Willie Stevens, were questioned today by authorities investigating the Hall-Mills murder and then allowed them to return to their homes.

Henry Stevens was interrogated for four hours. Willie and Mrs. Hall, the widow of Rev. Hall, who was found slain with his choir leader, Mrs. James Mills, were questioned for three hours. Charlotte Mills, daughter of the slain woman, was also questioned.

BELIEVE DEATH CAME FROM OLD WOUND

(By United Press.)

Luverne, Minn., Oct. 17.—A wound received two years ago when a jealous suitor stabbed her, caused the death Saturday night of Florence Martin, pretty Luverne girl, physicians believed today.

At first it was believed stomach trouble caused the death. Conditions arising from the old wound, however, are now believed responsible.

Miss Martin was stabbed by Harry Lienau two years ago as she sat in an automobile waiting for another man. Lienau is serving a twenty years sentence for the stabbing.

SHOPMEN WAIVE RIGHT WHEN COMPANIES PLEDGE NOT TO LITIGATE

Chicago, Oct. 17.—Sixteen railroads have completed agreements with the new individual shop unions by which in effect, the men waive the right to strike and the companies pledge themselves not to litigate. Both parties agree to abide by the decisions of the federal labor board. This does away with the labor boss sitting in Toronto or some other remote point and ordering out all the men in the United States.

The mileage represented by the roads in the new compact aggregates 55,916 and numerous other systems are negotiating similar agreements with their shop organizations.

The 16 roads already signed up are the Southern Pacific (Pacific system); Missouri, Kansas & Texas; Southern Pacific, Texas & Louisiana lines; Nashville, Chattanooga & St. Louis; Central of Georgia; New York, New Haven and Hartford; Chicago, Burlington & Quincy; Colorado Southern; Great Northern; Lehigh Valley; International & Great Northern; Union Pacific system; Illinois Central; Florida East Coast; Trinity & Brazos Valley, and San Antonio, Uvalde & Gulf.

Another Hazing Scandal At the Naval Academy

(By United Press)

Annapolis, Md., Oct. 16.—A powerful outside influence has been brought to bear to hush up and forestall work of navy officials probing the latest hazing scandal at the naval academy, a high official of the academy charged.

"If these outsiders would let us alone, we would make a lasting campaign of this hazing case and there would be no hazing in any form at the academy," this official told the United Press in an interview.

"Even so," he continued, "we are going to put an absolute end to the abominable hazing idea here, although we probably will be forced to take some drastic action in this case to do it."

GOLD AND PLATINUM FOUND IN SEA SANDS

Moelips, Wash. Oct. 17.—Beach sand gold mining is carried on by more prospectors than for years past. The virgin sand shifts periodically so this year both gold and platinum are being washed out in good amounts. Crude sluice boxes, with cleats for the quicksilver that catches and amalgamates the two valuable metals, are used. Better than ordinary wages are generally made in six to eight hours of shoveling and rocking. The gold either comes in from ocean depths or is carried from the Olympic mountains by streams.

Petroleum and Independence

SAYS the Chicago Tribune, "The automobile has increased the ability of people to take care of themselves—America's streets and roads are filled with motor cars because—the American in his own car feels the independence of going where he pleases and when he pleases."

The effective use of automotive power depends upon an adequate supply and efficient distribution of gasoline and other petroleum products. The users of automobiles and motor trucks of the Middle West would find themselves seriously handicapped were it not for the practically universal distribution of gasoline and oils, maintained by the Standard Oil Company (Indiana). This distribution system is continually growing, expanding, and penetrating new corners of the 10 states served by the Company.

The number of automobiles in the United States increased 13% during the first six months of 1922 over 1921. The increase in the states served by the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) during the past two years was over 36%. These figures give a fair idea of the rate of increase of distribution facilities required of this Company.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) expands in proportion to the increasing needs of the people it serves. It maintains 3973 bulk stations, so located as to assure rapid distribution of gasoline and oils. The number of these stations is promptly increased as the need for them arises. It maintains 1605 service stations, situated with a view to the convenience of the motoring public. It maintains throughout the rural districts 7167 tank wagons, which serve the farmer at regular intervals, enabling him to keep his truck, tractor, or motor car ready for instant use.

This efficient service of petroleum products is maintained at a high degree of effectiveness under all conditions and is the dominant factor in assuring the independence of the motorist of the Middle West.

METHODISTS PUT BAN ON USE OF TOBACCO BY CANADA PASTORS

Toronto, Ont., Oct. 17.—Tobacco will no longer find a place in the habits of the future pastors of the Methodist church in Canada. It was banished as undesirable by delegates attending the quadrennial conference of the church and in the future it will be incumbent upon all entering the ministry to make an affirmative answer to the question: "And will you continue to abstain from the use of tobacco?"

Civilization Unjustly Blamed. Decayed teeth have been found in a skull thousands of years old. Impacted wisdom teeth can be found in skulls taken from the shell mounds around San Francisco bay and exhibited in the ethnological museum of the Affiliated colleges. The theory that civilization causes such troubles is no sounder than the decayed molars.

Great Need of Humanity. The wrong kind of man goes to pieces when times are bad; the right kind shows there is something worth saving in every smash-up. What human beings need is something to shake them up and make them think.—Arthur Brisbane.

SULPHUR CLEARS A PIMPLY SKIN

Apply Sulphur as Told When Your Skin Breaks Out

Any breaking out of the skin on face, neck, arms or body is overcome quickest by applying Menthosulphur. The pimples seem to dry up and go away, declares a noted skin specialist.

Nothing has ever been found to take the place of sulphur as a pimple remover. It is harmless and inexpensive. Just ask any druggist for a small jar of Rowles Menthosulphur and use it like cold cream.

COLLINS OR BAKER AS YANKS' BOSS

By HENRY L. FARRELL
United Press Sports Editor

New York, Oct. 17.—While official verification is lacking, it is generally reported and believed more or less in baseball circles that the New York Yankees will have a new manager at the helm next season.

It has become a matter almost of habit for New York fans to relieve Huggins of his job after the end of every season, but the club owners did not seem to be of the same mind.

The reported retirement of the Yankee leader this year is said to be voluntary and to be brought on by ill health.

The little New York manager broke down almost completely during the pennant race this year. His job never has been easy, the credit he received from winning two pennants never equalled the criticism his leadership drew and he has never been any too strong to carry the load that his position places on his shoulders.

Last year it was reported that Wilbert Robinson was to get the team, as he is a great favorite of Capt. T. Huston, half-owner of the Yankees, but it is not probable that the Brooklyn club would be willing to part with Uncle Robby.

This year the gossips have picked Eddie Collins, the great White Sox star, as the next manager of the American League champions. Eddie hasn't many more years to go and he wants to try his hand at management.

Frank Baker, the war horse of the old Athletics, has also been suggested as a possibility.

Baker announced recently that he was going to retire for good at the end of the season, but he might change his mind if he had the chance to become the boss.

Houston is also a great admirer of Baker and as the check for Collins would have to be large size, the veteran Home Run King might get the selection if Huggins decides to get out of the job.

Dean Charles R. Brown of the Yale Divinity School in addressing the members of the Freshman class recently held up William Howard Taft, justice of the supreme court and former president and Malcolm Aldrich as the two finest examples of Yale's ideals.

Aldrich, All-American halfback and captain and star of the football and baseball teams was a "quiet modest sort of a fellow, who had not come from an expensive, exclusive preparatory school, but from a commonplace manufacturing town in Massachusetts. He had none of the advantages that go with wealth and social position but he made his name to conjure with."

In addition to his athletic prowess, Aldrich was honor man of his class.

Philadelphia has been nursing an ambition for a long time to develop some kind of a ring champion.

Lew Tendler was a bright prospect for the lightweight championship for several years and he is yet, but they doubt that the southpaw star will get another chance at Benny Leonard.

Bobby Berrett was a big hope for a time, but he was brought along too fast and passed out rather ingloriously.

Tommy Loughran, a middleweight is now the rage. His great showing recently against Harry Greb, the American light heavyweight champion, and Gene Tunney, the former champion, made him a fine prospect.

He is still under the voting age and if he is not handled unwisely as Barrett was, he ought to go a long way in the game, if he never gets a title.

With Battling Siki and Pancho Villa occupying places in championship row, the old wait for a white hope will be in order soon. There is the Spanish Firpo looking up in the distance and one Harry Wills also is a somebody to figure.

PRESENCE OF RECTOR STOPPED PAIN IN MRS. MILLS' ACHING TOOTH

ANOTHER LOVE NOTE FROM MRS. MILLS TO PASTOR IS MADE PUBLIC

NEW PROBE INTO DOUBLE MURDER INAUGURATED AT COURT HOUSE

(By United Press.)

New Brunswick, N. J., Oct. 17.—Mrs. Edward Wheeler Hall and her brothers, Henry and Willie Stevens, were questioned today in the investigation of the murder of Rev. Edward Wheeler Hall and Mrs. Eleanor Mills.

The widow, heavily veiled and accompanied by her eccentric brother Willie, arrived at the court house while Henry Stevens, millionaire, was being questioned. Mrs. Hall was followed by her maid, Miss Gertrude Geist, and her close friend, Sally Peters.

Willie Stevens, brother, was very jaunty as he walked up the court house steps, smiling and waving at the crowd which had assembled about the entrance when rumors spread that important developments in the murder mystery were imminent.

Mrs. Hall walked slowly up the court house steps with her head bowed. She did not look at her fellow townsmen who crowded about. This was the first time in the probe of the murder that all three members of the family have been brought together at one time.

Mrs. Hall had repeatedly denied on the occasion of previous questioning that she knew of the relations of her husband and the wife of the church sexton.

Hundreds of persons keyed up to excitement brought about by the latest developments of the mystery, swarmed around the court house as the probe was resumed.

A letter written by Mrs. Mills to her pastor, came to light today. It read: "Dear heart: How dear it was of you to accompany me to the dentist yesterday. Things would have been different if you had not been along. There was no pain during the extraction and none following it."

Mrs. Addison Clark, friend and at times confidant of Mrs. Mills, was to be questioned by authorities later in the day.

Questioning in Progress

New Brunswick, Oct. 17.—Mrs. Edward Wheeler Hall and her two brothers, Henry and Willie Stevens, were questioned today by authorities investigating the Hall-Mills murder and then allowed them to return to their homes.

Henry Stevens was interrogated for four hours. Willie and Mrs. Hall, the widow of Rev. Hall, who was found slain with his choir leader, Mrs. James Mills, were questioned for three hours. Charlotte Mills, daughter of the slain woman, was also questioned.

BELIEVE DEATH CAME FROM OLD WOUND

(By United Press.)

Luverne, Minn., Oct. 17.—A wound received two years ago when a jealous suitor stabbed her, caused the death Saturday night of Florence Martin, pretty Luverne girl, physicians believed today.

At first it was believed stomach trouble caused the death. Conditions arising from the old wound, however, are now believed responsible.

Miss Martin was stabbed by Harry Lienau two years ago as she sat in an automobile waiting for another man. Lienau is serving a twenty years sentence for the stabbing.
